

Student helper - Web developer

We are looking for a technical mind with an interest in development and digital marketing, who can help us in the digital department at Kunde & Co.

---

We are looking for a web developer to join the team. When working as a student helper we expect you to be at the office approx. 20 hours a week.

The position

When working as a student helper in the digital department at Kunde & Co, you will be delegated a wide variety of tasks, all of which are part of servicing our many international and national BTB and BTC clients. You will get to work with a wide variety of people across the agency, including consultants, project managers, creatives and developers. When working as a student helper we expect you to be at the office approx. 20 hours a week.

Your tasks will include, among other things:

- Programming new microsites and small HTML/JavaScript solutions from scratch
- Optimization and updating of frontend/backend on existing websites
- Development and production of HTML banners
- Other minor HTML and JavaScript tasks

What we expect from you

You are in your 3rd or 4th semester either at ITU, KEA, RTS, KU or the like. Ideally, you have worked as a web developer previously, have a natural flair for and interest in technology, and know what's going on in the world of digital marketing.

- Know your way around The Usual Suspects of languages: HTML, CSS3, Javascript and MySQL
- Have heard of or messed with CMS systems like Umbraco, WordPress, Sitecore, Drupal, etc.
- You enjoy a versatile working environment and are not afraid to throw yourself into new challenges, without always knowing all of the answers, but being willing to find them.
- You can work independently and function well in a fast-paced environment wherein lots of projects need to be addressed simultaneously.
- We expect you to be service-minded and able to help and guide our project managers when scoping digital tasks.
- You enjoy working in a fun and unpretentious atmosphere, and appreciate team work spirit

Interested?

If this sounds like the position for you, please upload your CV and cover letter here (<http://bms.kunde.dk/jobportal>). Please add in the comment section which position you are applying to.
